Annual Meeting Memorial Club

A general meeting of the Memorial Club was held in the Club rooms on Thursday last and while there were not as many present as there should have been a very successful meeting was held and new officers elected. The financial statement showed a balance of $205 on hand and the reports of the year's work was very favorable. It was decided to carry on for another year and the officers hope that they will receive the support that the work merits from the general public.

Mr. W. A. Austin was again unanimously elected President although he would rather have resigned in favor of someone else. Those present thought that he had made such a success of the Club so far that they wished him to retain the Presidency.

A strong executive was elected the following gentlemen being put into office:—W. Mueller, M. L. Watts, J. M. Reed, Rev. D. McGregor, C. Reiber, J. A. McGhee, E. E. Freeman and R. P. Crosland.

The fees for ladies was undecided but they will be allowed Monday nights and some other night through the week when available.

It was also decided that a cup should be donated by the Club for competition in the junior basketball league provided the league is properly organized and the fees are paid.

THEATRE DISASTER AT WASHINGTON

One of the worst disasters that has happened for some time occurred at Washington, D. C., on Saturday night last when 140 people were killed and over 100 badly injured by the collapse of the roof of the Knickerbocker theatre, one of the largest theatres in the capital.

The cause of the disaster was the accumulation of heavy snow on the roof causing it to buckle and fall. The crowd was so interested in the pictures that only one person became aware of what was going to happen when the roof came down with its tons of snow. A large number of people worked their way out to safety through openings in the debris.

They are all progressing very favorably and we hope will be around with us again soon.

A meeting of special interest to all young people will be conducted in the Baptist Church

Sunday night February 5th, by John Penner of the Salvation Army Corps of Calgary. A cordial invitation is extended to all young people to come and hear this young army man relate his experience. This does not exclude the older ones. Service commences promptly at 7.30.

Bert Fisher, of the Western Mutual Fire Insurance Co, staff has now taken over the management of the Didsbury Opera House and states that he is making arrangements to show the latest pictures by one of the well known film corporations. He hopes that the patronage will support him in his new undertaking and help him to provide good clean indoor amusement for the public. The prices for pictures have been reduced considerably which should help some.

Canada's Needs

No. 4—A Greater Use of Canadian Raw Materials

Men of all shades of political thought, and all students of economics, are agreed that the interests of Canada call for a reduction in imports of articles which the Canadian people can produce for themselves, and an increase in the export of those products and articles of which this Dominion can easily and profitably produce a surplus. In order that, through a combination of these two developments, a pronounced improvement may be brought about in the balance of trade in favor of the Dominion. It is when we come to consideration of ways and means whereby such a desirable and necessary change is to be effected that opinions sharply differ.

One school of political thought declares that the only effective means to lessen imports and increase home production is through a protective tariff; that is, a tariff sufficiently high in either shut out foreign competition or at least to enable the Canadian grown or manufactured article to under-sell foreign goods of a like kind.

The opposing school of thought contends that the inevitable result of such a tariff is to so enhance prices as to place a handicap on articles needed in the development of the country, and that thereby production at home is lessened, and, while import trade may be curtailed, production for export, likewise lowered and the buying power of the whole country reduced, and prices so enhanced that people are forced to do without many things which otherwise they would be able to purchase, and that this decreased buying power results in depression of trade and consequent unemployment.

The writer has no intention of taking any part in this political controversy. Whatever the effect of the tariff may be in one way or the other, the writer inclines to the view that the real difficulty and economic weakness of the Canadian position at present is to be found in another direction.

The commercial strength of Germany before the war was found in the energy displayed by Government and people in developing the natural resources of the country for use at home and abroad. The same thing is true of the United States. Neither of these countries imported any of our steel anything they could produce at home. It will be said that both these countries had protective tariffs and it may be argued that such tariffs were responsible for keeping about the result noted. But were they so responsible?

Canada has had a protective tariff for many years, yet this country has failed to develop many of its natural resources of raw material to anything like their full extent, and has gone on importing supplies which could have been secured at home. For example, Western Canada has some of the largest coal deposits in the world, yet for years millions of dollars worth of coal have been hauled by rail and water from Pennsylvania for use in this country. While Western Canada was doing this, Germany, as a result of scientific research work, was using greatly inferior coal to the Western Canadian article in the great German factories and as fuel for its people. (Canada lacks coal and has for decades followed the line of least resistance and imported millions of tons annually from Pennsylvania whereas much of Ontario and Quebec's industrial fuel requirements might have been obtained in Nova Scotia brought by water transportation up the St. Lawrence. But it was easier to continue to get supplies from Pennsylvania than to change in the national work of developing an inter-lake trade in coal from the Maritime Provinces via the St. Lawrence route.

Canada possesses enormously rich deposits in iron, copper and other minerals, but they lack development, and we continue to import huge quantities of iron ore from the United States. It is stated that one reason is that United States capitalists have secured control of the Canadian deposits and refuse to develop them so long as they can obtain sufficient quantities from their own mines; that, in a word, they are holding their Canadian properties in reserve against the day when their United States allies become exhausted and then, then and not then, will they develop their Canadian land properties. If this is so, and there appears to be evidence to support this charge, then it is high time the Canadian Government took steps to put an end to such an outrage by compelling the development and operation of these Canadian mineral properties with a penalty of forfeiture if such development is not proceeded with within a reasonable time.

Many Canadian manufacturers continue to import raw, or semi-manufactured, supplies in the form of more finished product when by the expenditure of some money and the discovery of a little more initiative and enterprise, such supplies could be obtained within Canada, thereby lessening our import trade and providing a very considerable volume of employment within Canada, and making possible a large increase in the value of Canada's export trade.

There are many things Canada can produce and must, therefore, import, but there are many supplies now imported which could just as well be obtained at home, and it is the duty of the Government to direct its energy and funds to meet policy along these lines which will promote self-development within Canada.

Farming Not a Dull Occupation

Men Who Like Work Find it Very Interesting

To be a good farmer, one must like farming. He must be interested in the things he works with, and in the problems he meets. He works with soil with machinery, with seed, with growing crops and with animals. He works also with markets. The problems he meets arise from the weather and its effects on soil, seed and crops; from weeds and plants and animal diseases; from the scattering of machinery; from fluctuating prices and from men who, not willing to work themselves, spend their time in working others, and in trying to reap the rewards of other men's labor. All these interests and problems may be merely perplexing and baffling, and, if so, many farmers are winning financial success out of these conditions and are finding them anything but dull.

A GOOD APPETITE GREATLY DESIRED

The Occasional Use of a Tonic Ensures a Good Appetite and Good Health

Lack of appetite is a common trouble, and indicates that the digestive system is out of order. Lacking a healthy appetite, no one can do anything without food or expect anything to be done for him. It is a common cause of nervousness, and it is a common cause of being constantly tired and unable to stand any strain. All this simply means that the digestive system is doing its proper work and that the nutriment that should come from the food is being directed to the various organs of the body. In other words, the blood is becoming rich and strong, and it is this rich blood that is the tonic and among all medicines there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Take a short treatment with these pills and note how promptly your appetite returns, and your power to digest food improves. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the experience of Mrs. William B. Jones, Cleveland, Ohio, who writes: "For a long time I suffered severely from indigestion. I could not eat and anything I did eat disagreed with me. The result was I became badly run down. I suffered from nervousness, and often passed sleepless nights. I had then a great deal of doctor's medicine with very little benefit, and finally read much about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to try them. The result has not met my expectations. It is now a week as ever. I sleep well at night, and have gained in flesh, and now when anyone in my family is ill this is the only household remedy."

The last time I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt the least bit out of spirits. The doctor says do so the money you will regain your old time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

UNION BANK OF CANADA

HAS AN EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG STATEMENT

Bank's Position is Well Maintained, the Liquid Assets being 53.70 per cent. of Total Liabilities to the Public—Resources Aggregate $152,625,386

THE balance sheet of the Union Bank of Canada, for the fiscal year ended November 30, 1921, which was returned to the shareholders at the 57th annual meeting, held at the Bank's head office in the city of Winnipeg, on Monday, January 9th, discloses this well-known banking institution to be in a very strong and liquid position. The meeting was largely attended by representative shareholders. W. R. Allan, Vice-President, presided. H. G. Shaw, General Manager, presented the Bank's annual statement. Following the shareholders' meeting, the Board of Directors elected W. R. Allan, President, John Galt, former president, re-elected because of his removal from Winnipeg to Victoria, B.C. Mr. Galt remains a director of the Bank. H. G. Shaw was elected Vice-President, and will continue as General Manager.

MR. H. G. SHAW
General Manager of the Union Bank of Canada who presented at the recent annual meeting an exceptionally strong statement.

The Bank's assets total $152,625,386. The readily available portion of these assets represents 53.70 per cent. of the Bank's total liabilities to the public, thus demonstrating that the liquid assets of the bank have been strongly maintained. A very strong feature of the statement is the carrying forward of $541,688 from next year's profit account, this being $100,000 greater than the previous year, and the largest amount in the Bank's history.

That the bank has continued to do its full share for the commercial interests of Canada is shown by the fact that the total of these loans at the end of the year was $24,000,000.

Grain loans total $7,225,423. Loans to Governments and Municipalities are $7,420,529.

Deposits totaling $116,222,355 are reported. Net profits for the year amounted to $1,342,359, which is about $200,000 less than the previous year.

Drop in Montreal Customs Receipts

Customs and excise receipts collected at the port of Montreal during the last year amounted to $30,271,570. This was a decline of $16,200,583 due to a general disinclination in the volume of imports, the abolition of the customs luxury tax, and the declining value of the goods brought into the country.

On the whole the big game season in Saskatchewan has been rather disappointing, only a few hundred moose being killed in comparison with twelve hundred last season, according to the chief game guardian.

Farmers Decide That Export Meat Business Is Not Profitable

Calgary.—Expressing an opinion that the establishment of any scheme for wheat marketing would be unlikely to secure for the farmers enough money to make it a profitable for serious consideration, J. B. Maclellan, secretary of the Alberta Grain Growers' Association, speaking as a national delegate to the United Farmers of Alberta convention stated that the farmers must go through a period of suffering during the time in which there was being brought about a re-establishment of a reasonable parity between the price at which the farmers have to buy and what they have to sell. Such a time, he declared, he thought, was impossible to avoid, and it must be borne by all farmers, laborers and business men alike.

United Farmers of Alberta at this time will not go into the co-operative meat export business. After a long discussion, the 1912 delegates decided to table indefinitely a report from a special committee which recommended that the association go into the business of shipping chilled meat to British markets on a co-operative plan.

F. M. Black, treasurer of the United Grain Growers, Limited, who spoke by invitation, was not optimistic over the possibility of developing a chilled beef export business from Alberta points. Mr. Black predicted the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle within about six weeks, as the result of the settlement of the Irish question.

The report of the committee advised that action should be taken immediately to start marketing Alberta beef by the chilled meat system through the medium of a co-operative company.

Hon. George Hoadley, provincial minister of agriculture, had written that the Government was convinced that the weight of evidence went to show that shipping of chilled Alberta beef to the British market could not be a profitable enterprise.

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming inhibited or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, lively and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and the gets irritable and nervous, has no flashes, faints and dizzy spells, another and dizzying spells and can't sleep at night. ### Union Bank of Canada Aids Agriculture

Annual Report of Union Bank of Canada Shows This Institution Continues to Give Valuable Assistance to Farmers

The 1921 report of the Union Bank of Canada now available to the public could not have appeared at a more opportune time.

The outstanding impression that is gained from examination of the Bank's statement is that the Bank has been particularly active in providing for the needs of its farmer clients. Current loans and discounts in Canada total over $22,000,000 and domestic loans in Canada secured by grain amount to $7,795,482.

The officials of the Bank are proud that the Bank is helping to finance the agricultural industry of the Dominion in substantial measure.

Dealing with the report as a whole, it is very pleasing to note that the Union Bank has been able to maintain a strong cash position. Total assets exceed $152,000,000, and include gold and silver coin and Dominion Government notes amounting to $14,229,729. Dominion and Provincial Government securities $10,042,000, Canadian Municipal securities and other public securities totalling $9,618,253, current loans and discounts in Canada $22,000,000, and loans to governments and municipalities $7,429,529.

The officials of the Bank deserve commendation for placing before the public such a strong balance sheet, particularly in view of the fact that such a statement will serve as a stabilizing medium at this time.

Cabinet Differences Add To Worry Of The British Premier

London.—The London Times says that the cabinet differences were so acute at the last weekend that there was a possibility that Premier Lloyd George would withdraw from the government and hand the reins over to Austen Chamberlain, who, heading a United Liberal party, would have a working majority of about 100 in the House of Commons, from which the Sinn Féin members still remained absent.

The Times adds that this possibility may now be said to have disappeared; that Mr. Lloyd George was reluctant to leave office before completing the act of parliament involved in the Irish treaty and was also keenly desirous of realizing fully all the possibilities of the Geneva conference.

The postponement of the reopening of the British Parliament from January 31 until February 7, was said by the party whips to be due to the fact that parliament usually meets during the second week of February and that there was much important "estate work" to be done before it can reassemble.

In political circles, it was said, the report of the country committee headed by Austen Chamberlain and Sir Eric Geddes, was not yet ready and would not be available yet for at least a fortnight. The government wishes to direct the report thoroughly, it was said, before publishing it.

The Evening Standard says it understands one of the main reasons for postponement is on account of problems in connection with arranging necessary legislation to put the Irish treaty into effect.

APPEAL ENTERED IN WEST CALGARY ELECTION

R. B. Bennett has entered an appeal against the election of Capt. J. T. Shaw at the recent Dominion election. The appeal will be heard by two judges of the Supreme Court. Capt. Shaw has the right to file a cross petition within 15 days.

The appeal is based on the fact that the Judge in the recent recount allowed ballots disallowed by the returning officer; disallowed ballots accepted by the returning officer; rejection of certain ballots.

A large number of Bennett ballots were plainly marked for him but pen and ink had been used instead of a black lead pen.

The appeal will likely be heard in the near future.

FERIBLE CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA

Dr. Nansen, head of the Russian relief, brought home a very pessimistic report of Russian affairs on Monday in London. England. He states that it is too late to save the people of Russia; that millions will die. Livestock is dying everywhere and unless something is done soon there will be none left. He states that in many places people are eating dead bodies and in others they are beginning to kill one another. The Canadian government will co-operate in relief with some private organization.

IDE THOUGHTS OF AN IDLE CURLER

Don't walk on the sidewalks between ends, you collect dirt here and carry it on the ice and spoil it.

Don't run across the ice just as a player is about to shoot.

Don't speak to your opponent as he is about to shoot, it is not only against the rules, but it is unsportsmanlike.

Don't forget to stand at the edge of the ice when a player is shooting, it is difficult enough for some players to see the broom without having their view obstructed by other curlers.

Don't fail to be in the right place to sweep a rock when called upon to do so, you cannot do it properly by standing half way down the ice and waiting for the rock to overtake you. Start with it from the hog-score.

Don't forget that efficient sweeping is almost as important as playing your rocks well; learn to sweep properly and always be ready when called upon to do so.

Don't forget that the closer you sweep to a running rock the better the result, but remember that a marred rock draws a heavy penalty against your side.

Don't forget that while sweeping increases the distance

Provincial Government Happenings

Hon. Vernon W. Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones, made it plain at the U. F. A. Convention last week that there was to be no increase of rural telephone rates under present conditions.

Over $1,000,000 has already been spent, or will be spent by the Provincial Government in relief work in the province, according to statements by Hon. Alex. Ross, Minister of Public Works. Much of this is for construction work of various kinds being done by the Government, aside from any share the Government may pay of the cost of relief work done by municipalities. The Government is opening up a great deal of work on its own account for purposes of relief. It also finds itself under the obligation of providing relief in unorganized territories, which include several large coal camps. The Dominion government is being asked to bear a share of this. Work being carried on by the government includes two large bridges over the Red Deer river, nearly $200,000 for road work, jail buildings at Drumheller and Edson, and other public buildings.

Over $100,000 has already been spent in keeping open schools in certain districts of the south. The Department of Agriculture already has given relief to 553 families, cost of supplies for these families having totalled $16,500.

Premier Greenfield this week told a delegation from the Alberta Federation of Labor, that no Legislation will be put upon the statute books of the province by this government, without full study and consideration. The Premier stated to the delegation, that too much legislation had already been put through in past years with undue haste. The delegation presented resolutions passed at the recent convention in Lethbridge, which called for a great deal of legislation of a very advanced nature. One resolution called for the sale of real beer, claiming that boot-legging would be eliminated if this were done. Mr. Brownlee told the delegation that he did not agree with them, that in Quebec where there was government control and liquor could be had easily under the law, boot-legging was just as active as in Alberta. Other demands made by the delegation were for legislation to regulate the rents; amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act for extension of medical service to include sickness; for the enactment of legislation for a greater protection of wages of working men; for the establishment of boards to fix a standard of living; for the establishment of a 44 hour week for all workers; for the extension of the school age from fifteen to sixteen years; for the establishment of $1200 as the minimum salary for teachers; for proportional representation, and many other things.

In connection with the $1200

minimum for teachers, Premier Greenfield said that he did not altogether agree with this request but felt that teachers' salaries should be increased in later years of experience, rather than at the beginning.

A request was also made by the delegation for a better standard of milk in the province. Hon. Mr. Hoadley stated that while this was desirable, it opened up a very big question in which were many phases to be considered.

The report of the farm survey Board of Alberta, has been presented to Premier Greenfield. It makes some important recommendations with respect to conditions in the South and a synopsis will be given out for publication shortly.

A bulletin issued by the Alberta Dairyman's Association calls attention to the fact that large shipments of New Zealand and Australian butter are now arriving on the Vancouver market, market which rightly belongs to Alberta. This is due to two reasons. One is that Alberta farmers are not producing enough butter of the proper grade, and the other is that duty on this butter coming in is low, making it advisable for Alberta farmers not only to study quality but also economy in manufacture.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is engaged in a campaign now to encourage the development of the dairy industry on the farms of the province and will shortly issue new bulletins for instruction of the farmer in this branch of farming.

The Red Cross Society of the province is now proceeding with its appeal for funds with which to supply clothing to the residents in the drought district of the province. This appeal has been endorsed by Premier Greenfield, since it is by arrangement with the government that the Red Cross Society has charge of the distribution of the clothing. Contributions to this fund should be handed to the editor of the local paper, who will forward same to the Red Cross.

"The Alberta government will make every effort to take advantage of the Federal grant of $1,500,000.00 for the building of highways in the province," said Premier Greenfield to the delegation from the Canadian Good Roads Association, which waited on the cabinet on Tuesday. The Premier said that there was no one more interested in good roads than he, and at the present time there was need for them, but the government did not intend to incur undue expenditure at a time when strict economy was to be observed. Experiments will be made as soon as the spring opens on short stretches of road with various materials in an effort to find the most suitable one for an all-weather road for the province. The native tar sands have been suggested, and estimates on the cost of gravel roads will be made. The members of the delegation were enthused over the Premier's remarks.

Red Cross Want Funds

In order that they may carry on the work of supplying clothing relief in the many needy districts of the province, a work which has been requested of them by the Government, the Red Cross Society is making an appeal for funds. This appeal is supported by Premier Greenfield in a letter sent to the various newspapers of the province.

The Red Cross has in hand this tremendous work and needs funds in order to successfully carry it through until the end of the winter. Over 8,000 individuals have been helped by the Society to date and the applications continue to pour in.

Donations to the fund should be made to the nearest Red Cross local unit, or to the headquarters, O'Sullivan Block, Calgary. The following acknowledgements have been made:

John Gallagher, the Carbon coal mine superintendent, was convicted of the murder of John G. Coward on Saturday and Mr. Justice Simmonson sentenced him to be hanged on April 15th. A. Macleod Sinclair, lawyer for the defence, stated that the decision will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

He leaned forward in the trees, but at that moment Riles clutched Gardiner's arm and said something in a low voice. The two men rode through the river and their words were drowned in the lap of the water. The smile did not leave Chapski's lips as he wound up his reel and stole swiftly along a cattail-trait up from the river, but a sudden light gleamed in his eyes and his muscles hardened with excited tension. He knew the slant to which Gardiner referred as they had once been there together and he realized that if there were going to be any "diamonds" in that locality tonight he would furnish a share of the excitement. Unfortunately, the ford was on a cross-road little used, and it was two miles back to the ranch. Had he been raised on the ranges he would not have been enticed so far from his horse, but a Manitou sometimes uses his legs to walk with while his brother in Alberta made them useful only for wearing saddles and straddling a saddle. By the time Travers reached the ranch buildings, caught and saddled his horse, made a fruitless search for his revolver, substituted a rifle which lay at hand, and at length found himself upon the trail, darkness was setting in, and Gardiner and Riles had many miles' start of him.

When the two plotters stopped to let their horses drink at the ford Gardiner suddenly broke off from their conversation to make a few remarks about Travers and Harris. Riles had listened indifferently until his eye caught sight of Travers, half concealed among the cotton-wood that fringed the stream. He clutched Gardiner's arm.

"S-sh-h," he cautioned. "Jim's just behind the bank. I'm sure I saw him, an' he heard you, too."

"Good," said Gardiner, quite undisturbed. "Now we can go on. They relied on their horses and plunged into the swiftly running water. You see," said Gardiner, as the horses took the opposite bank with great strides, their wet hoofs slipping on the round stones that rimmed the stream.

"You see, I knew Jim was there all the time. Those remarks were intended for my length."

Riles parted with a great chew of tobacco. "You beat me," he said, waving his lips with the back of his hand. "You think beat me."

Gardiner enjoyed the note of admiration in his companion's voice. He enjoyed also that knowledge that Riles was utterly at sea; that he had no more idea than the horse he rode what lay before them that night.

"It's all quite simple," said Gardiner, after a pause. "Jim will hurry back to the ranch, saddle his horse, and follow us. By the way, I didn't tell him I borrowed his revolver. But may delay him now. He should arrive at the shack in time to be adding a few stealthy observations just about the moment the Harries are hunting for their money bag. I hope Albin doesn't use that shotgun on Jim. A shot makes an awful hole in a man, Riles."

Riles experienced an uneasy feeling.

"Well," continued Gardiner, "I promised to lay the whole plan before you, where we were on the river. With no possibility of any strange eyes cocked for what a man might happen to say. Look at that sunset, Riles. Isn't that magnificent?"

"Good enough, I suppose," said Riles, "but I hope we didn't come out here to see the sunset. Now about this plan of yours."

"Riles," admonished Gardiner, "you're no more soon than a road stool. You haven't any imagination. I wonder you have fall enough to mind your watch. Now if you could paint a picture like that it would make you more money than you ever make, including what you're going to see tonight."

"But to get down to the scheme. It's all easy sailing now. The big thing was to get them on the road with the coin. That's what I needed you for, Riles. And you didn't do too bad. I had to prod you along a bit, but you'll thank me for it when it's all over."

"Yes, but it's them that's got it, not us," commented Riles.

"Sure, it'll be different in the morning. Riles, you are a gloomy devil. Here you have ten thousand dollars in your pocket and you're as happy as a man with a bolt. Now this is how it will work out, to a T. The two Traverses will be on the shanty about dark. They'll pitch camp there and begin to wonder when we'll come. Well, we won't. We'll come along with it's good and dark, even if we have to lift them on the road. If they sleep up as we'll just let him make one of the party, which will be sort of embarrassing for Jim. But he'll catch up. We'll when Jim is cool and dark—there'll be no moon till after midnight—and they're both sleepy with their long drive in the high altitude, we will arrive nearby. You will go up to the door and take a look on the quiet. I will go up to the window and do the same. There's no glass in the window, and there's no door on either side. I remember the location of the coin. Then you show yourself. Tell 'em I have the owner of the mine out there in the trees, but the old fellow won't come in until he has a talk with them. Tell 'em you better not show the money until they chat with him a few minutes. Likely they'll tell for that, as they don't seem to have the slightest suspicion. But if they balk at leaving the money let them bring it along. Once put in the dark the rest will be easy. But I figure they'll have the money in the shack—let's just for a few minutes, you know—and they'll reason that it's safe enough with no one but ourselves within miles. Well, you lead them out down through the bush. As soon as you do that I'll slip in through the window, rather up the long green and cache it somewhere in the scrub. You won't be able to find me at first, but when you do I'll say the old fellow wanted to go up to the shack himself to meet them, and I let him go. Then we'll all go back to the shack and find both the money and the old man—the mine owner, you know—missing. They'll start a hue and cry and all fall into the bush. You and I will gather up the spoil and make a quiet getaway for the night. Of course we have to turn up in the morning to avert suspicion, but we can tell them we got on the robber's trail and followed it until we lost ourselves in the bush. In the meantime the Harries will be tearing around in great excitement, and they're almost sure to run on to Travers. Harris recently lost Travers, and Albin had a fight with him. If you told them so, it's not likely they'll listen to any explanations. They'll turn him over to the police, and as it's the business of the police to get convictions, they'll have to make up a case against him or be made to look stupid—and that's the last thing a policeman likes. Then you and I will quietly divide the proceeds of our investment, and you can go back to your farm. If you like, and live a ripe old age and get a write-up in the local paper when you shuffle off. In the long run—don't put that type, Riles, and I'll fill the dirt and some way to spend my profits."

"It looks easy," Riles admitted, "but what about Jim? He'll tell what he heard you say at the ford."

"Let him. Nobody'll believe it. Remember that when he tells that he'll be under arrest, and when a man's under arrest his word is always discounted. To be arrested means to be half convicted. It takes two good witnesses to offset the effect of arrest, and Travers will have no witnesses."

"It's all quite easy," Gardiner continued. "And it'll should fall there are a dozen other ways just as easy. But we won't let it fall. We mustn't let it fall on your account."

"On my account?" What more account could there be?

"Well, you see, Harris, no doubt, has your letter stolen away some where, and if it ever comes to my hand, I don't think it mentions me at all. Besides, I know a way through the mountains, and if it doesn't turn out right—why, I'm glad I know the way. You see, I've nothing to lose, and nobody to worry over me. But it's different

He Knows What To Do Next Time

Reasons Why Wm. Rimus Praises
Dodd's Kidney Pills

His Backache is Gone and His Rest is Unbroken So He Will Turn Again to Dodd's Kidney Pills if His Trouble Returns.

Quadrville, Ont. (Special).—"I can truly say that I get great relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills. Such is the verdict of Mr. William Rimus, a well known and highly respected resident here. And here is the reason why Mr. Rimus is so positive:

"Before I used Dodd's Kidney Pills I had backache all the time," he states, "and I had to get up once or twice every night and now I have no trouble at all."

"I only used two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. But if ever I am troubled with my kidneys again I certainly will use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills are known all over Canada as a standard kidney remedy. They have made their reputation by doing good to people who suffered from any form of kidney disease."

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Expellers is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

with you, Harris. You have a wife and a farm down in Manitoba, and it would be inconvenient for you to slip away without notice. So I say that on your account we mustn't let it fall."

"You didn't say nothing about that before, I notice," said Riles. "You mustn't expect me to do your private thinking as well as that of the firm," Gardiner retorted. "You had the facts—why didn't you patch them together for yourself? You're in a mess now if things don't go right. But as I said, I'm going to stick with you and see that they do go right."

They rode along in silence in the gathering darkness. Had they been able to read each other's minds they would have been astonished at the coincidence of thought. Gardiner was planning to make away with the money when he got out of the building. Why should he divide with Riles—Riles, who would only hold it up, and who had plenty of money already? Not at all. Riles might sue him for his share, if he wanted to—and could find him, to serve notice. On the other hand, Riles' shot would have quickened to the point of perceiving that there lay before him a chance of making twenty thousand dollars instead of ten thousand, if he only had

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poison in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feelings and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney troubles lead to years of suffering from rheumatism or develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease.

The kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.
